FACSIMILE OF THE
CODEX VENETUS MARCIANUS 474 OF ARISTOPHANES

The photographic facsimile of this important MS. was undertaken jointly by the Archaeological Institute of America and the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, with the permission of the Government of His Majesty the King of Italy, and was issued in an edition of two hundred copies in 1902. The most of these have been sold. The price per copy of those that remain unsold is $35.00 in portfolio, and $36.75 bound in half-morocco.

The Codex Venetus Marcianus CCCCLXXIV is one of the oldest and best sources of the text of Aristophanes. It was written at the beginning of the twelfth century, contains seven plays, and is superior to all other manuscripts of this author in the number and quality of the scholia with which its margins are filled. It is indeed especially on account of the scholia that a reproduction was called for; for while the scholia of the Ravennas, though less valuable, have been edited in full, those of the Venetus, which are of prime importance for the criticism of Aristophanes, have never been adequately published.

The plates, 344 in number, were executed by the collotype process by the Oxford University Press from negatives taken by Signor Bertani of Venice. A full palaeographical introduction by Mr. T. W. Allen, Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, is prefixed to the facsimile.

Handbooks of Archaeology and Antiquities

Edited by PERCY GARDNER and FRANCIS W. KELSEY

A Grammar of Greek Art

By PERCY GARDNER, Litt.D., Professor of Classical Archaeology, University of Oxford.

A stimulating and comprehensive discussion of Greek art, architecture, dress, drapery, sculpture, and painting, pointing out their relation to literature and history.

"This book is to be strongly recommended to teachers, as it clearly marks the path by which the subject of Greek art may be made most comprehensible to students." — Classical Weekly.

Cloth, $1.75; postpaid, $1.89.

Greek Architecture

By ALLAN MARQUAND, Ph.D., L.H.D., Professor of Art and Archaeology in Princeton University.

Professor Marquand, in this interesting and scholarly volume, passes from the materials of construction to the architectural forms and decorations of the buildings of Greece, and lastly, to its monuments. Nearly four hundred illustrations assist the reader in a clear understanding of the subject.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.45.

Greek Sculpture

By ERNEST A. GARDNER, M.A., Professor of Archaeology in University College, London.

A comprehensive outline of our present knowledge of Greek sculpture, distinguishing the different schools and periods, and showing the development of each. This volume, fully illustrated, fills an important gap and is widely used as a text-book.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.67.

Greek Constitutional History

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, M.A., Late Lecturer in Hertford College and Brasenose College, Oxford.

Most authors in writing of Greek History emphasize the structure of the constitutions; Mr. Greenidge lays particular stress upon the workings of these constitutions. With this purpose ever in view, he treats of the development of Greek public law, distinguishing the different types of states as they appear.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.35.

Greek and Roman Coins

By G. F. HILL, M.A., of the Department of Coins and Medals in the British Museum.

All the information needed by the beginner in numismatics, or for ordinary reference, is here presented. The condensation necessary to bring the material within the size of the present volume has in no way interfered with its clearness or readableness.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.38.

The Destruction of Ancient Rome

By RODOLFO LANCIANI, D.C.L., Oxford; LL.D., Harvard;
Professor of Ancient Topography in the University of Rome.

Rome, the fate of her buildings and masterpieces of art, is the subject of this profusely illustrated volume. Professor Lanciani gives us vivid pictures of the Eternal City at the close of the different periods of history.

Cloth, $1.50; postpaid, $1.63.

Roman Festivals

By W. WARDE FOWLER, M.A., Fellow and Sub-Rector of Lincoln College, Oxford.

This book covers in a concise form almost all phases of the public worship of the Roman state, as well as certain ceremonies which, strictly speaking, lay outside that public worship. It will be found very useful to students of Roman literature and history as well as to students of anthropology and the history of religion.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.37.

Roman Public Life

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, Late Lecturer in Hertford College
and Brasenose College, Oxford.

The growth of the Roman constitution and its working during the developed Republic and the Principate is the subject which Mr. Greenidge here set for himself. All important aspects of public life, municipal and provincial, are treated so as to reveal the political genius of the Romans in connection with the chief problems of administration.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.63.

Monuments of Christian Rome

By ARTHUR L. FROTHINGHAM, Ph.D., Sometime Associate Director of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome, and formerly Professor of Archaeology and Ancient History in Princeton University.

"The learned author reviews the monuments of Rome during the ten centuries from Constantine to the Renaissance." "The plan of the volume is simple and admirable. The first part comprises a historical sketch; the second, a classification of the monuments."—The Outlook.

Political, social, and religious facts are coördinated with the history of art, so as to form a single picture. The volume is pronounced "a credit to American scholarship."

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.43.

Monuments of the Early Church

By WALTER LOWRIE, M.A., Late Fellow of the American
School of Classical Studies in Rome, Rector of St. Paul's Church,
Rome.

Nearly two hundred photographs and drawings of the most representative monumental remains of Christian antiquity, accompanied by detailed expositions, make this volume replete with interest for the general reader and at the same time useful as a handbook for the student of Christian archaeology in all its branches.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.39.

A CENTURY OF ARCHÆOLOGICAL DISCOVERIES.
By Professor A. Michaelis, of Strassburg. Translated into English
by Bettina Kahnweiler. With a Preface by Professor Percy
Gardner, of Oxford. With numerous Illustrations. 8vo.
$4.00 net.

Miss J. E. HARRISON writes: "A piece of work that will be of great value to all archæological students and to the educated public generally. . . .
The fact that special stress is laid on German excavations is, as Professor
Gardner notes, clear gain to us."

DOURIS AND THE PAINTERS OF GREEK VASES. By
Edmond Pottier. Translated by Bettina Kahnweiler. With a
Preface by Jane Ellen Harrison, Newnham College, Cambridge.
With Colored and other Illustrations. 8vo. $2.50 net.

"Charming monograph by M. Edmond Pottier. . . . He writes with the simplicity of a fable by Æsop. . . . He has made the making and meaning of Greek vases vivid to me."—Daily Chronicle.

FACSIMILE OF THE

The photographic facsimile of this important MS. was undertaken jointly by the Archaeological Institute of America and the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, with the permission of the Government of His Majesty the King of Italy, and was issued in an edition of two hundred copies in 1902. The most of these have been sold. The price per copy of those that remain unsold is $35.00 in portfolio, and $36.75 bound in half-morocco.

The Codex Venetus Marcianus CCCCLXXIV is one of the oldest and best sources of the text of Aristophanes. It was written at the beginning of the twelfth century, contains seven plays, and is superior to all other manuscripts of this author in the number and quality of the scholia with which its margins are filled. It is indeed especially on account of the scholia that a reproduction was called for; for while the scholia of the Ravennas, though less valuable, have been edited in full, those of the Venetus, which are of prime importance for the criticism of Aristophanes, have never been adequately published.

The plates, 344 in number, were executed by the collotype process by the Oxford University Press from negatives taken by Signor Bertani of Venice. A full palaeographical introduction by Mr. T. W. Allen, Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, is prefixed to the facsimile.

Handbooks of Archaeology and Antiquities

Edited by PERCY GARDNER and FRANCIS W. KELSEY

A Grammar of Greek Art

By PERCY GARDNER, Litt.D., Professor of Classical Archaeology, University of Oxford.

A stimulating and comprehensive discussion of Greek art, architecture, dress, drapery, sculpture, and painting, pointing out their relation to literature and history.

"This book is to be strongly recommended to teachers, as it clearly marks the path by which the subject of Greek art may be made most comprehensible to students." — Classical Weekly.

Cloth, $1.75; postpaid, $1.80.

Greek Architecture

By ALLAN MARQUAND, Ph.D., L.H.D., Professor of Art and Archaeology in Princeton University.

Professor Marquand, in this interesting and scholarly volume, passes from the materials of construction to the architectural forms and decorations of the buildings of Greece, and lastly, to its monuments. Nearly four hundred illustrations assist the reader in a clear understanding of the subject.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.45.

Greek Sculpture

By ERNEST A. GARDNER, M.A., Professor of Archaeology in University College, London.

A comprehensive outline of our present knowledge of Greek sculpture, distinguishing the different schools and periods, and showing the development of each. This volume, fully illustrated, fills an important gap and is widely used as a text-book.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.67.

Greek Constitutional History

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, M.A., Late Lecturer in Hertford College and Brasenose College, Oxford.

Most authors in writing of Greek History emphasize the structure of the constitutions; Mr. Greenidge lays particular stress upon the workings of these constitutions. With this purpose ever in view, he treats of the development of Greek public law, distinguishing the different types of states as they appear.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.35.

Greek and Roman Coins

By G. F. HILL, M.A., of the Department of Coins and Medals in the British Museum.

All the information needed by the beginner in numismatics, or for ordinary reference, is here presented. The condensation necessary to bring the material within the size of the present volume has in no way interfered with its clearness or readableness.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.38.

The Destruction of Ancient Rome

By RODOLFO LANCIANI, D.C.L., Oxford; LL.D., Harvard;
Professor of Ancient Topography in the University of Rome.

Rome, the fate of her buildings and masterpieces of art, is the subject of this profusely illustrated volume. Professor Lanciani gives us vivid pictures of the Eternal City at the close of the different periods of history.

Cloth, $1.50; postpaid, $1.63.

Roman Festivals

By W. WARDE FOWLER, M.A., Fellow and Sub-Rector of Lincoln College, Oxford.

This book covers in a concise form almost all phases of the public worship of the Roman state, as well as certain ceremonies which, strictly speaking, lay outside that public worship. It will be found very useful to students of Roman literature and history as well as to students of anthropology and the history of religion.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.37.

Roman Public Life

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, Late Lecturer in Hertford College
and Brasenose College, Oxford.

The growth of the Roman constitution and its working during the developed Republic and the Principate is the subject which Mr. Greenidge here set for himself. All important aspects of public life, municipal and provincial, are treated so as to reveal the political genius of the Romans in connection with the chief problems of administration.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.63.

Monuments of Christian Rome

By ARTHUR L. FROTHINGHAM, Ph.D., Sometime Associate Director of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome, and formerly Professor of Archaeology and Ancient History in Princeton University.

"The learned author reviews the monuments of Rome during the ten centuries from Constantine to the Renaissance." "The plan of the volume is simple and admirable. The first part comprises a historical sketch; the second, a classification of the monuments." — The Outlook.

Political, social, and religious facts are coördinated with the history of art, so as to form a single picture. The volume is pronounced "a credit to American scholarship."

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.43.

Monuments of the Early Church

By WALTER LOWRIE, M.A., Late Fellow of the American
School of Classical Studies in Rome, Rector of St. Paul's Church,
Rome.

Nearly two hundred photographs and drawings of the most representative monumental remains of Christian antiquity, accompanied by detailed expositions, make this volume replete with interest for the general reader and at the same time useful as a handbook for the student of Christian archaeology in all its branches.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.39.

TWO IMPORTANT BOOKS

A CENTURY OF ARCHÆOLOGICAL DISCOVERIES.
By Professor A. Michaelis, of Strassburg. Translated into English
by Bettina Kahnweiler. With a Preface by Professor Percy
Gardner, of Oxford. With numerous Illustrations. 8vo.
$4.00 net.

Miss J. E. HARRISON writes: "A piece of work that will be of great value to all archæological students and to the educated public generally. . . .
The fact that special stress is laid on German excavations is, as Professor
Gardner notes, clear gain to us."

DOURIS AND THE PAINTERS OF GREEK VASES. By
Edmond Pottier. Translated by Bettina Kahnweiler. With a
Preface by Jane Ellen Harrison, Newnham College, Cambridge.
With Colored and other Illustrations. 8vo. $2.50 net.

"Charming monograph by M. Edmond Pottier. . . . He writes with the simplicity of a fable by Æsop. . . . He has made the making and meaning of Greek vases vivid to me."—Daily Chronicle.

NOTEWORTHY PUBLICATIONS

FOWLER AND WHEELER'S HANDBOOK OF GREEK ARCHAEOLOGY

BY HAROLD N. FOWLER, PH.D.

Professor of Greek, Western Reserve University, and

JAMES R. WHEELER, PH.D.

Professor of Greek Archaeology and Art, Columbia University

$2.00

THIS volume presents briefly in its 559 pages the essential facts of Greek Archaeology. An introductory chapter gives a sketch of the history of the study, and is followed by discussions of Prehistoric Art, Architecture, Sculpture, Terracottas, Bronzes and Work in Gold and Silver, Coins, Gems, Vases, and Painting and Mosaic. Under each head is sketched the progress of art with reference to its historical development from archaic forms. The 412 illustrations have been carefully selected from the most authoritative sources. The latest phases of archaeology are treated. A bibliography and index complete the work, which offers a short but authoritative treatment of the whole field of Greek Archaeology.

MORGAN'S ADDRESSES AND ESSAYS

BY THE LATE MORRIS H. MORGAN

Professor of Classical Philology, Harvard University

$1.50

THIS volume, Professor Morgan's last published work, will appeal to teachers of the classics as representing the experience and views of a well-known scholar in fields in which he has made distinct contributions. The contents are literary, linguistic, and archaeological, and have appeared at intervals in different periodicals. They include notes on Cicero, Quinct. 13, on the word petitor; on quin with the subjunctive in questions; on the date of the oration Pro Roscio Comoedo; on Lysias and Persius; and three articles devoted to Vitruvius. Two addresses given were delivered before the Harvard Club and the New York Latin Club: The Student of the Classics, and The Teacher of the Classics. Other titles are The Water Supply of Ancient Rome, Quintilian's Quotations from Horace, and Occasional Verses.

Handbooks of Archaeology and Antiquities

Edited by PERCY GARDNER and FRANCIS W. KELSEY

A Grammar of Greek Art

By PERCY GARDNER, Litt.D., Professor of Classical Archaeology, University of Oxford.

A stimulating and comprehensive discussion of Greek art, architecture, dress, drapery, sculpture, and painting, pointing out their relation to literature and history.

"This book is to be strongly recommended to teachers, as it clearly marks the path by which the subject of Greek art may be made most comprehensible to students." — Classical Weekly.

Cloth, $1.75; postpaid, $1.89.

Greek Architecture

By ALLAN MARQUAND, Ph.D., L.H.D., Professor of Art and Archaeology in Princeton University.

Professor Marquand, in this interesting and scholarly volume, passes from the materials of construction to the architectural forms and decorations of the buildings of Greece, and lastly, to its monuments. Nearly four hundred illustrations assist the reader in a clear understanding of the subject.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.45.

Greek Sculpture

By ERNEST A. GARDNER, M.A., Professor of Archaeology in University College, London.

A comprehensive outline of our present knowledge of Greek sculpture, distinguishing the different schools and periods, and showing the development of each. This volume, fully illustrated, fills an important gap and is widely used as a text-book.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.67.

Greek Constitutional History

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, M.A., Late Lecturer in Hertford College and Brasenose College, Oxford.

Most authors in writing of Greek History emphasize the structure of the constitutions; Mr. Greenidge lays particular stress upon the workings of these constitutions. With this purpose ever in view, he treats of the development of Greek public law, distinguishing the different types of states as they appear.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.35.

Greek and Roman Coins

By G. F. HILL, M.A., of the Department of Coins and Medals in the British Museum.

All the information needed by the beginner in numismatics, or for ordinary reference, is here presented. The condensation necessary to bring the material within the size of the present volume has in no way interfered with its clearness or readableness.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.38.

The Destruction of Ancient Rome

By RODOLFO LANCIANI, D.C.L., Oxford; LL.D., Harvard;
Professor of Ancient Topography in the University of Rome.

Rome, the fate of her buildings and masterpieces of art, is the subject of this profusely illustrated volume. Professor Lanciani gives us vivid pictures of the Eternal City at the close of the different periods of history.

Cloth, $1.50; postpaid, $1.63.

Roman Festivals

By W. WARDE FOWLER, M.A., Fellow and Sub-Rector of Lincoln College, Oxford.

This book covers in a concise form almost all phases of the public worship of the Roman state, as well as certain ceremonies which, strictly speaking, lay outside that public worship. It will be found very useful to students of Roman literature and history as well as to students of anthropology and the history of religion.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.37.

Roman Public Life

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, Late Lecturer in Hertford College
and Brasenose College, Oxford.

The growth of the Roman constitution and its working during the developed Republic and the Principate is the subject which Mr. Greenidge here set for himself. All important aspects of public life, municipal and provincial, are treated so as to reveal the political genius of the Romans in connection with the chief problems of administration.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.63.

Monuments of Christian Rome

By ARTHUR L. FROTHINGHAM, Ph.D., Sometime Associate Director of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome, and formerly Professor of Archaeology and Ancient History in Princeton University.

"The learned author reviews the monuments of Rome during the ten centuries from Constantine to the Renaissance." "The plan of the volume is simple and admirable. The first part comprises a historical sketch; the second, a classification of the monuments." — The Outlook.

Political, social, and religious facts are coördinated with the history of art, so as to form a single picture. The volume is pronounced "a credit to American scholarship."

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.43.

Monuments of the Early Church

By WALTER LOWRIE, M.A., Late Fellow of the American
School of Classical Studies in Rome, Rector of St. Paul's Church,
Rome.

Nearly two hundred photographs and drawings of the most representative monumental remains of Christian antiquity, accompanied by detailed expositions, make this volume replete with interest for the general reader and at the same time useful as a handbook for the student of Christian archaeology in all its branches.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.39.

FACSIMILE OF THE CODEX VENETUS MARCIANUS 474 OF ARISTOPHANES

The photographic facsimile of this important MS. was undertaken jointly by the Archaeological Institute of America and the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, with the permission of the Government of His Majesty the King of Italy, and was issued in an edition of two hundred copies in 1902. The most of these have been sold. The price per copy of those that remain unsold is $35.00 in portfolio, and $36.75 bound in half-morocco.

The Codex Venetus Marcianus CCCCLXXIV is one of the oldest and best sources of the text of Aristophanes. It was written at the beginning of the twelfth century, contains seven plays, and is superior to all other manuscripts of this author in the number and quality of the scholia with which its margins are filled. It is indeed especially on account of the scholia that a reproduction was called for; for while the scholia of the Ravennas, though less valuable, have been edited in full, those of the Venetus, which are of prime importance for the criticism of Aristophanes, have never been adequately published.

The plates, 344 in number, were executed by the collotype process by the Oxford University Press from negatives taken by Signor Bertani of Venice. A full palaeographical introduction by Mr. T. W. Allen, Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, is prefixed to the facsimile.

FOWLER AND WHEELER'S HANDBOOK OF GREEK ARCHAEOLOGY

By HAROLD N. FOWLER, PH.D.

Professor of Greek, Western Reserve University, and

JAMES R. WHEELER, PH.D.

Professor of Greek Archaeology and Art, Columbia University

$2.00

THIS volume presents briefly in its 559 pages the essential facts of Greek Archaeology. An introductory chapter gives a sketch of the history of the study, and is followed by discussions of Prehistoric Art, Architecture, Sculpture, Terracottas, Bronzes and Work in Gold and Silver, Coins, Gems, Vases, and Painting and Mosaic. Under each head is sketched the progress of art with reference to its historical development from archaic forms. The 412 illustrations have been carefully selected from the most authoritative sources. The latest phases of archaeology are treated. A bibliography and index complete the work, which offers a short but authoritative treatment of the whole field of Greek Archaeology.

MORGAN'S ADDRESSES AND ESSAYS

By THE LATE MORRIS H. MORGAN

Professor of Classical Philology, Harvard University

$1.50

THIS volume, Professor Morgan's last published work, will appeal to teachers of the classics as representing the experience and views of a well-known scholar in fields in which he has made distinct contributions. The contents are literary, linguistic, and archaeological, and have appeared at intervals in different periodicals. They include notes on Cicero, Quint. 13, on the word petitor; on quin with the subjunctive in questions; on the date of the oration Pro Roscio Comedo; on Lysias and Persius; and three articles devoted to Vitruvius. Two addresses given were delivered before the Harvard Club and the New York Latin Club: The Student of the Classics, and The Teacher of the Classics. Other titles are The Water Supply of Ancient Rome, Quintilian's Quotations from Horace, and Occasional Verses.

Handbooks of Archaeology and Antiquities

Edited by PERCY GARDNER and FRANCIS W. KELSEY

A Grammar of Greek Art

By PERCY GARDNER, Litt.D., Professor of Classical Archaeology, University of Oxford.

A stimulating and comprehensive discussion of Greek art, architecture, dress, drapery, sculpture, and painting, pointing out their relation to literature and history.

"This book is to be strongly recommended to teachers, as it clearly marks the path by which the subject of Greek art may be made most comprehensible to students." — Classical Weekly.

Cloth, $1.75; postpaid, $1.89.

Greek Architecture

By ALLAN MARQUAND, Ph.D., L.H.D., Professor of Art and Archaeology in Princeton University.

Professor Marquand, in this interesting and scholarly volume, passes from the materials of construction to the architectural forms and decorations of the buildings of Greece, and lastly, to its monuments. Nearly four hundred illustrations assist the reader in a clear understanding of the subject.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.45.

Greek Sculpture

By ERNEST A. GARDNER, M.A., Professor of Archaeology in University College, London.

A comprehensive outline of our present knowledge of Greek sculpture, distinguishing the different schools and periods, and showing the development of each. This volume, fully illustrated, fills an important gap and is widely used as a text-book.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.67.

Greek Constitutional History

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, M.A., Late Lecturer in Hertford College and Brasenose College, Oxford.

Most authors in writing of Greek History emphasize the structure of the constitutions; Mr. Greenidge lays particular stress upon the workings of these constitutions. With this purpose ever in view, he treats of the development of Greek public law, distinguishing the different types of states as they appear.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.35.

Greek and Roman Coins

By G. F. HILL, M.A., of the Department of Coins and Medals in the British Museum.

All the information needed by the beginner in numismatics, or for ordinary reference, is here presented. The condensation necessary to bring the material within the size of the present volume has in no way interfered with its clearness or readableness.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.38.

The Destruction of Ancient Rome

By RODOLFO LANCIANI, D.C.L., Oxford; LL.D., Harvard;
Professor of Ancient Topography in the University of Rome.

Rome, the fate of her buildings and masterpieces of art, is the subject of this profusely illustrated volume. Professor Lanciani gives us vivid pictures of the Eternal City at the close of the different periods of history.

Cloth, $1.50; postpaid, $1.63.

Roman Festivals

By W. WARDE FOWLER, M.A., Fellow and Sub-Rector of Lincoln College, Oxford.

This book covers in a concise form almost all phases of the public worship of the Roman state, as well as certain ceremonies which, strictly speaking, lay outside that public worship. It will be found very useful to students of Roman literature and history as well as to students of anthropology and the history of religion.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.37.

Roman Public Life

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, Late Lecturer in Hertford College
and Brasenose College, Oxford.

The growth of the Roman constitution and its working during the developed Republic and the Principate is the subject which Mr. Greenidge here set for himself. All important aspects of public life, municipal and provincial, are treated so as to reveal the political genius of the Romans in connection with the chief problems of administration.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.63.

Monuments of Christian Rome

By ARTHUR L. FROTHINGHAM, Ph.D., Sometime Associate Director of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome, and formerly Professor of Archaeology and Ancient History in Princeton University.

"The learned author reviews the monuments of Rome during the ten centuries from Constantine to the Renaissance." "The plan of the volume is simple and admirable. The first part comprises a historical sketch; the second, a classification of the monuments." — The Outlook.

Political, social, and religious facts are coördinated with the history of art, so as to form a single picture. The volume is pronounced "a credit to American scholarship."

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.43.

Monuments of the Early Church

By WALTER LOWRIE, M.A., Late Fellow of the American
School of Classical Studies in Rome, Rector of St. Paul's Church,
Rome.

Nearly two hundred photographs and drawings of the most representative monumental remains of Christian antiquity, accompanied by detailed expositions, make this volume replete with interest for the general reader and at the same time useful as a handbook for the student of Christian archaeology in all its branches.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.39.

The photographic facsimile of this important MS. was undertaken jointly by the Archaeological Institute of America and the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, with the permission of the Government of His Majesty the King of Italy, and was issued in an edition of two hundred copies in 1902. The most of these have been sold. The price per copy of those that remain unsold is $35.00 in portfolio, and $36.75 bound in half-morocco.

The Codex Venetus Marcianus CCCCLXXIV is one of the oldest and best sources of the text of Aristophanes. It was written at the beginning of the twelfth century, contains seven plays, and is superior to all other manuscripts of this author in the number and quality of the scholia with which its margins are filled. It is indeed especially on account of the scholia that a reproduction was called for; for while the scholia of the Ravennas, though less valuable, have been edited in full, those of the Venetus, which are of prime importance for the criticism of Aristophanes, have never been adequately published.

The plates, 344 in number, were executed by the collotype process by the Oxford University Press from negatives taken by Signor Bertani of Venice. A full palaeographical introduction by Mr. T. W. Allen, Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, is prefixed to the facsimile.

Correspondence should be addressed to

PROFESSOR MITCHELL CARROLL, Secretary,
ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D.C.

SCHOOL OF AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY

THE SCHOOL OF AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY was founded by the Archaeological Institute of America in 1907, to conduct the researches of the Institute in the American field, direct the expeditions of the branch Societies, and afford opportunities for field work and training to students of archaeology and ethnology. Expeditions for the excavation of ancient American ruins will be announced in the annual Bulletin. Students of archaeology and ethnology will be admitted to expeditions on satisfying the Director as to qualifications for the work proposed. Terms of admission will be furnished on application.

The Central American Fellowship with a stipend of $600 is awarded annually. Other Fellowships are to be established as soon as funds are secured for their maintenance. The School will cooperate in research with universities and scientific organizations, both home and foreign, and invites correspondence with reference to such collaboration in either field or archive work in American subjects. Coöperative arrangements have already been made with a number of institutions.

For further information, address the Director,

Mr. EDGAR L. HEWETT,

Santa Fe,

New Mexico.

AMERICAN SCHOOL AT ATHENS

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES AT ATHENS was founded by the Archaeological Institute of America, in 1881, and is in great measure supported by the coöperation of leading American Universities and Colleges. No charge for tuition is made to graduates of the supporting institutions; other students are required to pay a fee of $25 per annum for tuition and library privileges. Two Fellowships, with a stipend of $600 each, are awarded on examination; the examinations in 1911 (for the Fellowships of 1911-1912) will be held on March 16-18. A Fellowship in Architecture also will be maintained for the next two years by the Carnegie Institution of Washington. The library of the School contains more than 4000 carefully selected volumes.

The Director of the School is Mr. B. H. HILL. In 1910-1911 the annual professorship is held by Professor F. G. ALLINSON, of Brown University. He will be succeeded in 1911-1912 by Professor CHARLES BURTON GULICK, of Harvard University.

For further information, address the Chairman of the Managing Committee,
Professor JAMES R. WHEELER,
Columbia University, New York, N.Y.

AMERICAN SCHOOL IN ROME

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES IN ROME (Via Vicenza, 5) was founded in 1895 by the Archaeological Institute of America, and is affiliated with it and with the American School at Athens. It offers to graduates in Arts of American Colleges, and, under exceptional circumstances, to other persons of marked qualifications, instruction and assistance in advanced classical and archaeological studies. Regular courses of lectures and practical exercises, chiefly in the field or in the museums, are given by the resident American instructors and by distinguished foreign specialists. Liberal opportunities for study are afforded in the great museums and libraries. Archaeological excursions are arranged for and conducted. The Director of the School is Professor JESSE BENEDICT CARTER. The Professor of Latin for 1910-1911 is Professor H. R. FAIRCLOUGH, of Leland Stanford, Jr., University.

Tuition is free to graduates of "coöperating colleges." One or more Fellowships in Classical Archaeology, each of $600, and usually one in Christian Archaeology, of $500, are awarded annually on competitive examination, which (for the Fellowships of 1911-1912) will be held on March 13-14, 1911. Two Research Fellowships also, each of $800, have been established by the Carnegie Institution, which will be awarded for the year 1911-1912.

For further information, address the Chairman of the Managing Committee,
Professor ANDREW F. WEST,
Princeton University, Princeton, N.J.

AMERICAN SCHOOL IN PALESTINE

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL FOR ORIENTAL STUDY AND RESEARCH IN PALESTINE was founded in 1900, and is affiliated with the Archaeological Institute of America. It is supported by a number of American Universities and Theological Seminaries and by private subscriptions. The School is established in Jerusalem, and offers to properly qualified persons excellent opportunities for the study of the geography, archaeology, and history of Syria, and of the Semitic languages. A Fellowship, with a stipend of $600, is awarded annually on examination. The Director of the School for 1910-1911 is Professor CHARLES R. BROWN, of Newton Theological Seminary. The Chairman of the Committee on Fellowships is Professor CHARLES C. TORREY, Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

For further information, address the Chairman of the Managing Committee,
Professor CHARLES C. TORREY,
Yale University, New Haven, Conn.
